BUSH, JOBLESS, WILL TAKE HIS MEDICINE

Says Connie Is the Boss and He Has No Words of Reproach

BACON IS ALSO CHASED

Joe Bush, who is now playing the leading part in "Cast Adrift," a sob drama written by Connie Mack, arrived in Philadelphia this morning, after a trip through the West. Joe is on a vacation and will spend it in this city. Connie insisted that be take a rest for a couple of months, and Bush, remembering his military training obeyed like a good soldier. He will not be sided or assisted by the semi-monthly pay checks, as Manager Mack believed he would enjoy himself if not overburdened with wealth. In other words, Connie erased Joe's name from the payroll.

The noted pitcher had no words of re-proach to hurl at his boss when he pulled into the city early this morning. This is strange and unusual, for a ball player in-variably thinks he is in the right and wants the world to think that he has been im-

'Connie is boss of the club," said Joe "and he knows what he is doing. He laid me off for the remainder of the season without pay, and I will take my medicine. He has a right to do se he likes with his players and it isn't up to me to question him. I'll just wait and see how things work out. Mr. Mack always has been fair with and I don't think he will change now. Some Costly Repartee

"The trouble started after the fifth inning resterday when I was bumped for six runs and Cleveland took the lead. I went back to the bench feeling pretty sore, for I wanted to win that game, not so much for myself, but for the team. One of the A's stepped up to the plate and slammed out

'He certainly walloped that one,' I said "'Yes, and the other fellows were wal-loping them, too, replied Connie. 'I'd rather see a hard hit ball than those measley pop-ups they made off me,

They wouldn't make any at all, said nie, if you would keep yourself in con-Who said I am not in condition?" 'I'm all right, but my arm is bad, I had no right to be in there in the first good,' I told him.

"'All right,' said Connie, 'you are fined $200 and suspended for the rest of the sea-son. You will leave the club tonight.

Late Hours Are Expensive

The trouble started after the game on Tuesday when we were badly beaten. Con ale was worrying about the club, and I don't blame him. We have a good team and should be winning lots of ball games. but our pitching has been off and that made the club look bad. After the game we went back to the hotel feeling mighty sore and that night some of the players, in-cluding myself, went to the theatre. I re-turned about 1 a. m. and the others about an hour before me. Connie had been up late himself and probably heard me. I guess I broke the training rules in stay-ing up so late and I will take my medicine.

"I see by the morning papers that I am quoted as saying that I am glad to get away from that bum bail club. I want to correct that, because I never said it. I be-lieve the Athletics have one of the best clubs in the league, and with any kind of one error.

Bacon, the young pitcher purchased from od showing in Chicago, also was chased too, was one of the midnight prowlers, and Connie shipped him to Birmingham yespacer beat Single G in three straight heats in the free-for-all in 2:06, 2:06½ and 1:02½. The time in the last heat was a new record for the Belmont track. Miss Harris M. had plenty of brush and was never headed in any of the three trips around the mile oval.

"Pop" Geers would have probably finshed second in the stellar event had not his entry broke when he had a chance to best Fred Jamison's Pennsylvania-owned Single G pacer, It was the first time Single tasted defeat this year. Better time was expected than the fastest heat of 2:02½ by the majority of those in attendance, but the footing wasn't quite up to the standard, as many of the trainers and drivers claimed, and probably this can be advanced for the slow time. advanced for the slow time.

There is no getting away from the fact that the trio of horses that started in the event moved away slowly. The time for the half in the first two heats was above 1:03½. The third heat was by far faste: for the field paced the half in 1:00½.

Fred Jamison, who trains and drives Single G. was interviewed after the race by an Evening Ledger representative and he attributed Single G's defeat to the soft condition of the track. Jamieson said "that the track was somewhat cuppy and that track was somewhat cuppy and that entry goes better over a hard course." "Lou" McDonald was next interviewed by EVENING LEDGER scribe, and the In-napolis trainer stated that he was sur-ed to beat the Jamison sidewheeler.

Penn Stars Eliminate Dr. Hawk and Harlan in Third Round at Ocean City

OCEAN CITY, N. J., Aug. 33.—Wallace Rhoads and Arthur Kerr, University of Sennsylvania players, sprang a big surprise by eliminating Dr. P. B. Hawk and C. M. Harlan in the third round of the doubles tourney in the South Jersey Patriotic tournament at the Yacht Club today, by 4-6, 6-2, 6-2. Hawk and Harlan defeated the collegians last year in a close match, and the sets today between the old rivals was none the less thrilling.

Hawk and Harlan won the first set, 6-4, n the second set each of the players won their service until the fourth game, when, with the score 2-1, Rhoads and Kerr leading, the younger players broke through Hawk's service. Doctor Hawk again lost this service in the eighth game of the set and Kerr and Rhoads were the winners

Hawk and Harlan were unable to return their opponents' brilliant lobs in the face of a glaring sun, and with the games at 4 to 3 in the third set Poeter Hawk once again lost his service. The set game went to deuce eight times before Kerr and Rhoads finally won with a series of excellent placements, giving the Penn stars the match.

Semifinal matches in the men's singles are scheduled for this afternoon with Doctor Hawk and Percy Osborne and Mosier and C. M. Harlan the contestants. Hawk won his way into the semifinals by an easy victory over Dean Johnson, 6-2, 6-3, and Harlan put out Herman Dorn-heim, the Frankford High lad, after three hard sets, 4-6, 6-1, 7-5. ALL marathon records were lashed to the mast and smashed to smithereens over the twenty-four-foot course at Shibe Park last night, and Johnny Mealy was the record-breaker, aided and abetted by Johnny Dundee, who inspired the Philadelphlan's fleetness. Mealy back-stepped. criss-crossed and tangoed to the new mark to the tune of a bombardment to blows little Italian. Dundee landed sufficient slams to win eighteen ring boots, and, any-way, succeeded in grabbing off laurels for ne by a unanimous vote. Marathon running is easy when one has the wind and follows his nose, but it is a difficult problem doing it backward which makes it all the more so intricate, as John Chester Sherman is wont to say. Mealy, however, put on his new and latest backstep marathon nicely and niftily, and it helped him in keeping away from two mil-lien punches, more or less, instead of one million, less or more, landed by Dundee

Dundee Going Back?

They do say that Dundee is going back, but if last night's exhibition can be used as a criterion, the Wop-Scotch is on reversed speed. He was the same aggressive flying, jabbing, ducking, dodging, side-stepping in-fighting demon that has made him one of the most pleasing boxers in the country, or any city. Of course, it is super-fluous to state that Dundee can't punch. Park.3b. r b o a c r b o a nomy or body.
Immdee forced and carried the milling to Mealy from the moment Joe Sinaro sounded the first gong. He had Mealy backing un continually, allowing himself to be wide pen and taking chances of having the Philadelphian push over a crusher. It was evident, though, that Mealy was satisfied to give the fans the benefit of the entire limited contest. He punched in a half-hearted way after the second round, and when he did pick out a healthy wallou, Johnny. nearing Mealy, missed with the marksmar Johnny, meaning Dundee, placed his well-known clusive chin in the way of a Mealy punch, but the blow was light.

In the second round Mealy pulled himself together long enough to cross a hard right,

Why the new harvest?

"The little sour apple that Eve ate, becomes a juicy pippin today." So goes an old song.

Dame Nature is a striver for perfection. From the elements of soil, water, air she gathers her resources that she may periodically produce perfect fruit.

And under right stimulation she everlastingly improves upon herself.

Now!

With the abundant new harvest comes a perfected and more beautiful Packard.

It is the natural product of a rich and deep experience—that ever seeks to improve upon itself.

The refinement of the Twin-six motor means further efficiency—and greater economy of fuel.

It saves gasoline.

And the radical change in body design sets advanced standards of automobile beauty, comfort and elegance.

This new creation is the finest fruit of Packard endeavor.

And with it arrives the fulfilment of the new harvest-with its everrenewing power to satisfy men's growing needs and desires.

Seventeen body styles in this third Twin-six series-3-25 and 3-35. Open cars, $3450 and $3850, at Detroit who A s kthe m a n owns 0 n. e
